

Girls Daydreaming

My choice is Cecil Beaton, who is widely regarded as the greatest British photographer of the 20th century and shot a large number of famous portraits during his lifetime. In addition, he is a painter, a writer, and has won an Oscar for Best costume design. His most famous works are his portraits of various people.

After seeing his works, I was deeply impressed by the beauty in his shots. He used theatrical costumes, props, mirrors and materials to create spectacular scenes with the utmost aestheticism. He also draws on many excellent works in art history to create extraordinary pictures. Every single one of the people in his shots, they're incredibly beautiful.

The people who Cecil Beaton was able to document were superstars, and his camera captured the before and after images of every famous person, from the film actresses and the stage and the theatre stars to the writers, the pop stars and the royals. The reason why a great photographer is unforgettable is that the beauty he recorded or created only belongs to the time, they only stay in that moment, and the photographer grasped this moment, so it is frozen by history into classic and eternal.

It was also a big challenge for me to choose him. In the past, my photos were mainly landscape shots, and I rarely took portraits of people. This was the first time that I let portraits occupy all my shots. I photograph theme is "Girls Daydreaming", mainly in all kinds of girl is given priority to, the beautiful lady in love fantasy, gothic cool girl in the imagination of their own beauty, dressed in ancient costume girl aspired to be a return to the ancient dream, homework take pictures for their session of fashion design students fantasize about their future can become a famous designer.
